MOTION FOR WITHDRAWAL OF COUNSEL FOR PLAINTIFF KAPALUA LAND COMPANY, LTD. AND FOR EXTENSION OF TIME FOR PLAINTIFF TO OBTAIN NEW COUNSEL

Sughrue Mion PLLC and its attorneys W. Mack Webner and Leigh Ann Lindquist, pursuant to Trademark Rules 2.19 (b) and 10.40, respectfully move their withdrawal from representation of Plaintiff, Kapalua Land Company, Ltd. in the above captioned matters.

The parties have been negotiating a settlement of this matter through their corporate executives. As a result of the party-to-party negotiations, there has been a break down in communications between Plaintiff and its trademark counsel. Counsel has been unable to obtain instructions on proceeding with presenting evidence in the case or be advised of the status of the negotiations, despite their repeated requests to be so instructed or advised. The lack of communication makes the preparation and presentation of the client's case impossible and, perhaps unnecessary if the matter is near settlement.

Counsel has notified the client that it can no longer provide the client with adequate representation, and the client has acknowledged that fact. The client was advised prior to the filing of the Motion To Withdraw that communication was necessary, that trial dates had been set in this matter and that failure to communicate would require counsel to withdraw. Prior to the scheduled date for the client's testimony period to open and at the time the original motion was filed, counsel advised the client that it was seeking to withdraw, that the client should retain different counsel and that all documents and materials relevant to this case would be forwarded as the client directs and that counsel will cooperate with new counsel in making sure that the client's interests are protected. The Testimony period and trial dates have now been suspended by this Honorable Board and the client has, if it so elects, additional opportunity to enlist the aid of new counsel without prejudice to its interests.

Counsel has not yet provided the client with all papers and property that relate to the proceeding as it has not received any instructions from the client as to where such materials should be sent. Seeking instructions from the client as to the disposition of the materials, rather than sending the numerous documents to the client unexpectedly and prior to counsel's being excused from representation appears to be the more reasoned approach and is in keeping with the intent and spirit of the Rule.

There are no advanced fees that have been paid in this matter.

Counsel respectfully moves this Honorable Board to permit their withdrawal of further representation of Plaintiff, and that Plaintiff, Kapalua Land Company, Ltd. be granted a suspension of the trial dates in this matter until it obtains new counsel.

Respectfully submitted,
